

Joseph B. Michels, Ph.D., P.E., C.P.L.

Dr. Joe Michels has over 40 years of experience in leadership and management of supply chain management, logistics, warehousing, transportation and third party logistics management functions. He has directly led/supervised over 2000 individual contributors in all phases of logistics operations, to include Health, Safety, and Environmental operations. Dr. Michels has supervised operations in Greenland, Johnston Atoll in the Pacific, the Nevada Test Site, Moody AFB, Georgia and Bolling AFB, DC as well as White Sands Missile Range. In each location, third party logistics providers were responsible for accomplishing all the work necessary for safe and efficient operations at each facility. He served in the Air Force Chief of Staff's Operations Group as a logistics and supply chain expert.

Dr. Michels is retired career senior Air Force officer, retiring in the grade of Colonel, pay grade O-6. He is a licensed professional engineer in Texas and Montana. He serves as the co-chair of the Industrial Engineering Professional Engineering examination development committee. He is a Certified Professional Logistician (CPL) awarded by SOLE, the International Society of Logistics. He holds Defense Acquisition Worker Improvement Act (DAWIA) level 3 certification in acquisition logistics.

He has served as the Dean of the School of Systems and Logistics, Air Force Institute of Technology, Dayton, Ohio as well as the Dean, College of Business, Montana State University-Billings, Billings, Montana.

Dr. Michels is admitted as an adjunct faculty member to the graduate business faculties of the University of North Texas, Denton, Texas and the University of Texas at Arlington, Arlington, Texas. He teaches undergraduate and graduate classes in business strategy, supply chain management, operations management, and logistics.

Dr. Michels has taught transportation logistics matters at the graduate level. He has shipping expertise in rail, sea, air and surface transportation, warehousing, procurement and all facets of supply chain operations.