Lynn currently serves as Regional Business Development Executive for TMAC-Metroplex with a primary focus on a holistic view of the operations of small and medium-sized manufacturers, including the defense industrial base and supply chain. She works closely with Senior Leaders to identify strategic challenges and their impact to the organization. Her experience as CEO of a nonprofit organization and a small business owner brings real world insight to understanding those challenges and in providing solutions. Lynn also works as an Advisor in the areas of Lean, Continuous Improvement, Leadership and Workforce Development, Strategy Planning & Deployment, and Growth Strategies.

She has over 30 years business management experience, including non-profit management, volunteer management, Corporate Strategy and Communication, Corporate Governance, and implementation of continuous improvement initiatives in the areas of Senior Leadership, Strategy Development and Deployment, Customer Engagement, Measurement, Analysis & Organizational Performance, Knowledge Management, Workforce Engagement, Work Processes, and Operational Efficiency & Effectiveness with organizations in multiple industries including healthcare, education, manufacturing and service. Whether leading divisions of 100 in for profit organizations or 350 active volunteers in a non-profit; Lynn understands team dynamics, possesses exceptional relationship building skill, enjoys Leadership & Workforce Development, and working with cross-functional, high performing teams. With 22 years in the manufacturing industry, she has an in-depth working knowledge of manufacturing operations and hands on experience in key processes, as well as in playing an integral role with an international manufacturer receiving the Deming Prize and the Baldrige Performance Excellence Award. Prior to transitioning to manufacturing, she held senior leadership positions in the commercial property and casualty insurance industry focusing in Auditing, Compliance, Risk Management, Finance & Accounting, Due Diligence, Contract Negotiation and Mergers & Acquisitions. Additionally, Lynn managed multiple start up operations throughout the Southwest.

Lynn has 20 years combined experience as a Shingo, state and national level Baldrige examiner, and ASQ International Team Excellence Judge. While pursuing her Bachelor's degree in Business Management and Legal Studies, a legal internship provided the opportunity to delve into the world of Corporate Law, Governance, and Contracts while working hands-on with an international organization.

Additionally, she has training and certifications in Supply Chain Optimization for Leaders, LSS Black Belt, ASQ Certified Manager of Quality and Organizational Excellence, Certified ISO 14001:2015 Lead Auditor, Core Consulting Skills Certification, ISO 45001:2018, ISO 9001:2015/AS9100D Internal Audit, Factory Physics for Managers, Project Management certification, Lean Performance Measures, Process Management and Mapping, Lean Office, Value Stream Mapping, Corporate Governance, Leading Business Process Improvement, Building High Performance Teams, Principles of Lean for Leadership, ISO/TS: Layered Process Audit, Statistical Process Control (SPC), FMEA, PPAP, APQP, Measurement Systems Analysis (MSA), ISO Environmental Compliance, OHSAS Safety Compliance Facilitator, Problem Solving Techniques, Issue Resolution, Influence Strategies, ISO/TS Control Point,
